Levels of cover

Licence Assist from 2direct is designed to help motorists who need to be able to drive, for work or for personal reasons. Every driver should have proper advice and be in a position to defend themselves, but the legal costs can often be prohibitive for those who would suffer the most from a driving ban. The policy offers legal advice, defence of motor prosecutions, and a fixed monthly benefit in the event that you lose your licence.

Advice

A Licence Assist policy entitles you to telephone legal advice on any motoring matter. You don't have to be facing a ban or even accused of an offence. Our legal partners, Hunt & Coombs solicitors, can help.

Defence

Should you receive a summons that could result in a driving ban, your Licence Assist policy will cover the cost of legal representation to make sure that your case is properly defended in court.

Benefit

In the event you are banned from driving by the courts following an unsuccessful appeal under the Motor Legal Defence section of this policy, Licence Assist will provide a fixed monthly benefit. This monthly benefit level is selected when you purchase the policy.
